

Subscribe

Share ▾

Past Issues

Translate ▾

RSS

If this email isn't looking beautiful view it on the web

HERRONLINE

THE OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER OF
HERRON SCHOOL of ART + DESIGN

Visit our website

Connect to us on Facebook

Follow us on Twitter

Volume 2 Issue 6

November 2012

NEWS

UPCOMING EVENTS

SNIPPETS

Image credit: Herron staff

Opening night of Undergraduate Student Exhibition includes Jane Fortune Lecture with Judy Chicago

The Undergraduate Student Exhibition will open in the Berkshire, Reese and Paul Galleries on December 5 with a reception beginning at 6:00 p.m. Inclusion in this juried show is an honor for the students whose work is chosen. Each year this exhibition represents the best of the best among Herron's talented undergraduates across departments. This year's jurors are Herron alumnus Lon Beck (painting, '67), professor emeritus from Miami University of Ohio, and Melissa Porkorny, associate professor of painting and sculpture at the University of Illinois.

Judy Chicago
Image credit: the artist

READ MORE

L to R: Junior Megan Taylor, sophomore Amy Applegate and freshman Autumn Britton attended on scholarship to study with Master Artist Quang Ho
Image credit: Herron staff

American Impressionist Society holds symposium at Herron

More than 90 artists from around the country visited Herron to paint with nine master artists during a symposium November 9 through 11.

The American Impressionist Society kicked off its 2012 Symposium with an exhibition the evening before at Eckert and Ross Fine Art on Nov. 8. Symposium Chairman Paula Frizbe said one of the master artists, C.W. Mundy, who taught during the three-day event, "is from Indianapolis and helped in drawing people to this location." Also a draw were Herron's facilities and the city's "many fine museums, the Eiteljorg just being one," said Frizbe.

READ MORE

Watch Video

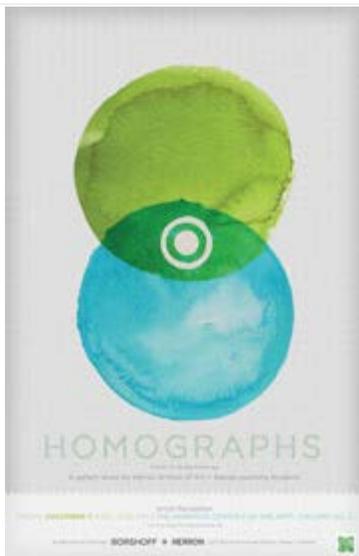

Image credit: Herron staff

Art Bank's Gray Room welcomes Herron students as gallery managers and artists

First Fridays are a bustling scene. In late summer at the Art Bank Galleries (<https://sites.google.com/site/artbankartgallery/>) on Massachusetts Avenue, the crowd was getting thick in its various rooms. An artist could be heard advising out-of-state visitors that "There's so much to see now in Indianapolis that you can't do all parts of town on any given gallery hop night."

READ MORE

Borshoff supports experiential learning for

Exhibition poster courtesy of Borshoff

Herron artists five years running

The 2012 Borshoff Annual Gallery Show and Awards marks the fifth such event, where Borshoff, an Indianapolis-based strategic, creative communications agency, works with the Basile Center for Art, Design and Public Life to invite Herron students—in this case 21 seniors in painting and first-year M.F.A. candidates in painting and drawing—to respond through their work to a theme chosen by the agency. This year's tantalizing theme is Homographs—The art of double meaning.

READ MORE

L to R back row: Michelle Walkey-Thornburg, Heidi Moffat, Amy Granger, Natalie Wallace, Amanda Krieger and Linda Adeniyi

L to R middle row: Katalyn Wagner, Uriah Graham and Hillary Timmerman

L to R Front row: Katie Hearn and Juliet King

Image credit: Herron staff

First art therapy internships signal historic step for the profession in Indiana

Herron School of Art and Design's first art therapy graduate students will soon begin internships with a variety of community partners, said Juliet King, the director of the Art Therapy Program at Herron. "These partnerships starting in January 2013 demonstrate the breadth of value placed on art therapy as a healing tool. The importance of learning in a clinical setting can't be overstated for how art therapy is taught at Herron."

READ MORE

Studying abroad: a life-changer

Image credit: Michael Morgan

Your support of international study program changes lives

The Louvre. The Palace of Versailles. The Arc de Triomphe. Notre Dame. Imagine being a student at Herron School of Art and Design. Maybe you've never been on a plane, but you're about to experience the places you've only read about. That's just what happened to students who participated in Herron's International Study Program this summer.

"The study abroad trip to Paris was amazing! Walking around felt like walking around an Edward Hopper painting because I was surrounded by the stunning architecture enveloped with light,” shared junior Bethany Knuckles, a painting major who traveled to Paris in June. She added, “Sitting and drawing the sculptures of Edgar Degas and other artists is something I’ll never forget—each stroke of my pencil made me see the dynamism, accuracy and vitality of the work in front of me.”

READ MORE

Alumnus BT Stuck
Image credit: Herron staff

With the world by the tail, BT Stuck applies design thinking to healthcare

BT Stuck graduated in 2011 from Herron with an M.F.A. degree in Visual Communication Design. That same year, he and his partner, Terri, had a daughter and he landed a newly-created position as the coordinator of patient experience in Indiana University Health’s Design and Construction Department. He recently took time out of a very busy schedule to sit down with Herronline and tell us about his graduate experiences and his post-Herron life.

READ MORE

NEWS

UPCOMING EVENTS

SNIPPETS

Ceramics & Print Sale

DEC
07

It's not the holidays without traditions and one of our favorites is the End of Semester Ceramics and Print Sale featuring works by Herron students and faculty. This is a great chance to find that one-of-a-kind art work for that special someone.

READ MORE

9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Eskenazi Hall

Herron School of Art & Design

HR 151

DEC
05

Dec. 5 - 21, 2012

Basile Gallery

Image courtesy Herron staff

Interiority Complex

INTERIORITY COMPLEX is a multi-disciplinary, semester-long collaboration project culminating in an exhibition. The project involved graduate students in the first year of the Master of Fine Art in Visual Art degree program at Herron.

READ MORE

DEC
05

December 5 - 22, 2012

Marsh Gallery

Image courtesy Herron staff

Works of Healing and Hope

Works of Healing and Hope features paintings created by students in their senior year in response to their opportunity to visit Eskenazi Health's main facility, Wishard Hospital.

READ MORE

NEWS

UPCOMING EVENTS

SNIPPETS

Agha among local luminaries

in "Find Your Favorite" healthy eating campaign

Assistant Professor of Painting and Drawing Anila Agha is in a fine bunch of local luminaries who've enlisted to inspire healthy eating. Typically, she is busy teaching and showing her works nationally and internationally—most recently in Kingwood, Texas at Lone Star College during the exhibition Plurality: Paperwork, which ran from October 4 through 30.

READ MORE

Anila Agha promotes healthy eating the mushroom way
Image credit: Herron staff

Alumna Stergar is an International Sculpture Student Achievement Award winner

What happens if one day you turn on your tap and nothing comes out? Asking that question garnered Emily Stergar (B.F.A in Sculpture, '04) a 2012 Outstanding Student Achievement in Contemporary Sculpture Award from The International Sculpture Center. There were more than 434 nominees from 174 schools for one of 12 awards.

READ MORE

Emily Stergar
Image credit: the artist

Baker shows in Denmark

Works by Lesley Baker, assistant professor of ceramics, are on display through November 30 at the Ann Linnemann Studio Gallery in Copenhagen. The exhibit, Ceramics and Print—Narratives, coincides with the release of the second edition of Ceramics and Print by Paul Scott.

READ MORE

Declaration, recycled serving dish with decal applied, then masked and sandblasted
Image credit: the artist

Furqueron's works featured in exhibitions, publications

Reagan Furqueron, assistant professor and director of foundation studies, has contributed to several recent exhibitions and publications. He was featured in the group show The Teapot Redefined 2012, which ran from September 29 through November 15 at the Mobilia Gallery in Cambridge, MA.

READ MORE

Walking Stick Caddy, Poplar,
Milk/Acrylic paint, 49" x 7.5" x 7.5"
Walking sticks: 40" x 2.5" x 2.5"
Image credit: the artist

Herron alumni Whitton and Kenyon earn prestigious teaching awards

Suzanne Whitton (B.A.E., '06 and M.A.E., '12) and Matt Kenyon (B.F.A. in Furniture Design, '08) are two recent, shining examples of the impact Herron has in the broader community.

READ MORE

Whitton and Kenyon
Images courtesy of Whitton and
Indianapolis Art Center

Kinsman, Potter and Stone present at national conference on the education of artists

Three Herron faculty members—Lecturer in Art History Patrick Kinsman, Associate Professor of Foundation Studies William Potter and Senior Lecturer in Foundation Studies Sherry Stone—recently attended the National Conference on Liberal Arts and the Education of Artists in New York to lend their expertise to the national conversation. Their colleagues from dozens of colleges and universities around the country joined them to discuss the importance of liberal arts in visual art instruction.

READ MORE

L to R: Potter, Stone and Kinsman
Image credit: Herron staff

Lee's film and photos featured from Danville to Battambang

Herron asserts that its students benefit from faculty members who also are working artists, putting themselves out into the real world. Compelling and high-contrast evidence comes from Assistant Professor of Photography and Intermedia Flounder Lee.

READ MORE

Glacial stroll

Image courtesy: Flounder Lee

Goodine presents at international gathering to ponder Plath

More than 40 panelists from eleven countries, a dozen major scholars, 20 eminent poets and artists and other enthusiasts of all stripes gathered in Bloomington for a symposium October 24 through 27 to consider cult figure Sylvia Plath, one the most influential writers of the 20th century.

READ MORE

Bee Listening, Linda Adele Goodine

Image credit: the artist

Rob Day's oil portraiture is in demand

Rob Day (B.F.A. in Visual Communication, '84), has gained international attention for his striking illustrations for corporate America and magazines from Business Week to Rolling Stone. While he still satisfies requests for this work, most recently, he's been turning his formidable talents to oil portraiture.

READ MORE

Rob Day

Image courtesy the artist

Mid-Century mods reunite at Herron

After school they went different directions, scattered to the four winds, but something still binds them. A handful of advertising design alumni from the classes of '64 and '65—before Herron merged with Indiana University—arranged to visit Herron recently. Some came with their spouses. Some came from as far away as California. About a third of them had never seen Herron's new buildings.

L to R, front row: Joseph Detrick, John Paul Quarterman, David C.

READ MORE

Ogle

L to R back row: Dick Flack, Fred Jungclaus, Martha Jungclaus and David Urbahns

Image credit: Herron staff

Sholly work featured in traveling exhibition Graphic Design: Now in Production

The work of brothers Jim and Jon Sholly (Jim, B.F.A. in Visual Communication, '87, and Jon B.F.A. in Visual Communication, '03), is included in the international travelling exhibition Graphic Design: Now In Production. The exhibition arrived at the Hammer Museum at UCLA at the end of September by way of the Smithsonian's Cooper-Hewitt National Design Museum and continues through January 6.

READ MORE

Commercial Article 03

Image courtesy Jon Sholly

Still time to apply for a 2013 Creative Renewal Arts Fellowship

The Arts Council of Indianapolis wants you to know that there's still time to apply for a 2013 Creative Renewal Arts Fellowship. The Fellowship was established in 1999, with support from Lilly Endowment, to give artists and arts administrators what equates to an opportunity for a sabbatical. Dozens of artists connected to Herron are Creative Renewal Fellows. Applications are due December 7.

READ MORE

Vance Farrow in China during his Creative Renewal Fellowship

Image courtesy of Indianapolis Arts Council

IN MEMORIAM

Diane Carol Jones

1954-2012

From The Indianapolis Star, September 16, 2012

Diane Carol Jones, 58, passed away peacefully on August 31, 2012 at her home. She was born in Indianapolis and is the beloved daughter of Edward Harrison Jones and Mary Curry Jones.

Diane was a graduate of Pike High School and Ball State University.

Although she was a person of many interests, she always had a special love of art. While studying sculpture at Herron School of Art, she designed and built a bench which is installed at the IUPUI library.

With encouragement from her dad, Diane entered the field of nursing, graduating with honors from Marian College (University) in 2005 with a RN, BSN degree. She was a Nurse Liaison with the Home Health Service for St. Francis Hospital & Health Centers.

In her free time and with a serious "green thumb" she beautified her yard with wildflowers and many interesting plants.

Diane is survived by her mother, Mary Curry Dunbar (Frank); her brothers, D. Harrison Jones (Frances) and W. Terry Jones, MD (Susan Hoffman); and a nephew, Joshua Hoffman. She greatly enjoyed time spent with her family and her many friends.

LOOK FOR THE NEXT ISSUE OF HERRONLINE February 19, 2013

Information for the next issue may be submitted for consideration by February 11, 2013

Submit information to robbullo@iupui.edu

facebook.

flickr

twitter

vimeo

This e-mail was sent to <<Email Address>>. Update your profile.

You are receiving this e-mail because you elected to receive email communication from Herron School of Art and Design. We never send unsolicited e-mail, nor do we sell our list. All trademarks are the property of their respective owners.

If you would like to unsubscribe from our mailings, click this unsubscribe link or send a letter to:

Herron School of Art and Design
Attn: External Affairs
735 West New York Street

Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

Add us to your address book

To contact us via e-mail, visit the contact section of the Herron web site.

Copyright ©2010 The Trustees of Indiana University | Copyright Complaints