

- 5th Annual Connecting Campuses with Communities is the place for you!

The Center for Service and Learning and Indiana Campus Compact, invite those interested in enhancing their service learning course or advancing their research on service learning to the Connecting Campuses with Communities conference this summer. Applications are being accepted now through March 1, 2013. Learn more about the intended objectives >>

- The Service Learning Institute (May 13-15), ideal for those interested in gaining strategies used to improve the quality of a service learning course,
- The Research Academy (May 15-17), designed to strengthen one's research on service learning while advancing their scholarship of teaching and learning.

Building a network of scholars and practitioners is at the core of both events and past participants have reported this as one of the most valuable outcomes from participating. Please join scholars and practitioners from the across the country in advancing service learning pedagogy and the field of civic engagement, or invite others you believe would benefit from this experience.

Application Deadline is Friday, March 1st, 2013

Registration: $200 one event, $350 for both

For further information, contact: J.R. Jamison (jrjamiso@iupui.edu) or Julie Hatcher (jhatcher@iupui.edu)