STAFF COUNCIL YOUR VOICE!

Handmade Treasures for Sale

October 30, 2010
10:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

The IUPUI Staff Council will host its second Fine Arts and Crafts Fair on Saturday, October 30, 2010 at the IUPUI Campus Center, 420 University Blvd, on the southwest corner of Michigan St and University Blvd on the downtown campus of IUPUI.

Visitors can choose holiday gifts and one-of-a-kind handmade items offered by more than 50 crafters and artisans from around the state. Each vendor has been hand-selected by a team of jurors from the Staff Council to ensure that quality items are featured. Items for sale include skin care products, clothing, glass art, jewelry, purses, original artwork, floral arrangements, woodcrafts, pottery, and seasonal decorations for the home and yard.

The Fair runs from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., October 30th. Admission is free and open to the public. Parking is available in the Vermont Street garage adjacent to the Campus Center.

The Staff Council represents all non-faculty and non-union employees of IUPUI. The Fine Arts and Crafts Fair is their major annual fundraising effort. Proceeds from booth rental will support scholarships for IUPUI students.

The IUPUI Fine Arts and Crafts Fair is presented by the IUPUI Staff Council and sponsored by Best Rentals, Barnes and Noble@IUPUI, Bloomington Shuttle Service, IUPUI Food Service, and the IUPUI Campus Center.

Multicultural Teaching and Learning Institute: Culturally Sensitive Pedagogy

How can faculty create an inclusive curriculum and a classroom environment supporting the success of all students? This year's Multicultural Teaching and Learning Institute (MTLI) will help to answer this question. This year's keynote speaker is Dr. David Stinson, Associate Professor of Mathematics Education, Georgia State University. The title of Dr. Stinson's keynote address is, "Is there a Need (or Space) for Culturally Relevant Pedagogy in Higher Education?" Concurrent sessions will address diversity skills employers desire, diversity issues in medical education, student perspectives on inclusivity, ways to create more LGBT-sensitive courses, and hands-on stations exploring instructional strategies, assessment, classroom dynamics, and course content considerations related to inclusive teaching. Please visit the event website for detailed information:
